Dara Huang, Founder of Design Haus Liberty comments:

"Kitchens can be particularly theatrical places if you're an excellent cook, tending to be used to give a show when hosting friends or family for a meal. Large kitchens offer an extra wow when walking into the space, constituting a completely different design than the rest of the house as show piece. It really depends on the individual's interests in the kitchen and how it might be utilised if for example as the heart of the house."
